STANDARD MEASUREMENTS

IMPORTANT:

When selecting pattern size, always be sure to measure over any clothing that will be worn under your finished garment.

In choosing your correct pattern size, compare your measurements with the measurements given in the standard measurement chart. If your measurements correspond to one size across the bust or chest and another at the waist and hips, it's easy to alter one of our multi-sized patterns to correspond to your measurements. Simply follow the lines on the upper portion of the pattern which correspond to your chest or bust measurement. Then gradually taper in or out to the size which corresponds to your waist and hip measurements. The appropriate amount of ease has already been added to the pattern—so you need not worry about adding ease. When purchasing fabric, buy the amount given for the larger size.

Coil zipper by the yard is especially well suited for application to packs, bags, sleeping bags, and garments which do not require a separating zipper. Coil zipper bends around corners better than molded tooth or metal zippers.

COIL ZIPPER BY THE YARD

The size for coil zipper pulls can be found on the nose (center bar) of non-locking coil pulls, or the back of most locking pulls.

5C = #5 Coil Zipper, 8C = #7 Coil Zipper.

Measure here (inside dimension) to determine size for replacement pulls: #7 = .7 cm wide, #5 = .55 cm wide.

Check size or measure as indicated before ordering replacement pulls.
